REMEMBERING TIMES

OF HIGHLANDS JUNIOR HIGH

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE PRINCIPAL
MR. R.D. MACKENZIE

STUDENT: " In these days of high unemployment, do you think education is still important?"

ANSWER: " With the unemployment statistics the way they are, Lisa, education becomes even more important. The competition for jobs becomes more intense and prospective employers tend to take the people with the best education available."

STUDENT: " Will education help us in the future to get and hold a respected job?"

ANSWER: " It's definitely going to be a factor. The preparation or education that you have is very important in terms of getting you the job. How you perform on that job is going to help you keep it. The employer's best predictor of how you will perform on the job is your school performance."

STUDENT: " As we observe the lives of successful people, can we assume that they are successful because they obtained a sound education?"

ANSWER: " In 99% of the cases. We always have exceptions but, in order to be successful, one has to have skills, and most skills are gained in school."

STUDENT: " Can you tell us what we must do, as students, to complete junior high school so we are prepared for high school, and then further education?"

ANSWER: " The most important thing is to develop proper work habits."

STUDENT: " As principal what do you think influences us most at our age?"

ANSWER: " There are a number of things. Among these are your parents, your teacher, and the biggest influence for people in junior high school, your peer group or friends."

STUDENT: " Mr. Mackenzie, I'm not sure that I'll be able to make the right decision in choosing a career that I'm suited for. What will I have to consider in making that choice?"

ANSWER: " That's a difficult one. When you start to think about choosing a career, you have to look at your interests, skills and strengths. A lot of junior high school students have not made that choice. My best advice to those students is to keep as many doors open as possible, by maintaining their marks and being very careful about their course choices in high school. When you do make a decision, you will have the pre-requisite that's necessary for career choices."

STUDENT: " Is Highlands different in any way from the school you were last employed at?"

ANSWER: " The major difference is the size. This school is about twice the size of my previous school. Junior high school students throughout the city have the same interests, the same kind of problems, and the same kind of concerns."

STUDENT: " Thank you."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As president of Students' Council, I would like to thank all the students for their great support this year. We at Highlands are fortunate to have students with such a great deal of school spirit. It is the spirit which makes our school a success. I would like to thank all the fine teachers who have guided us throughout the year. A special thanks to Mr. Mackenzie, the secretaries and to our advisors who helped make this year a tremendous success. Your concern for all of us is greatly appreciated.

I have enjoyed serving as president and I hope that the 1983/84 school year has provided many happy memories.

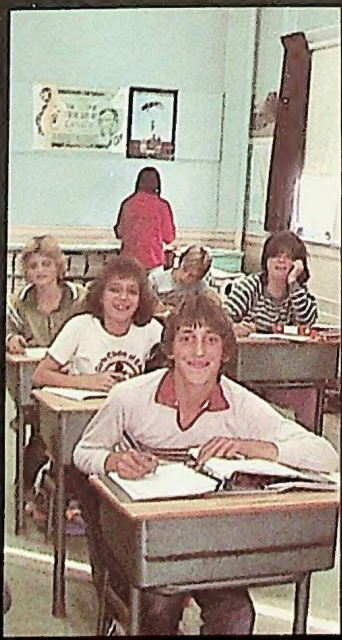

Best of luck in the future!

Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree

Rockin' around the Christmas tree
At the Christmas party hop.
Mistletoe hung where you can see
Co'ry couple tries to stop.
Rockin' around the Christmas tree,
Let the Christmas spirit ring
Cuter we'll have some pumpkin pie
And we'll do some caroling.
You will get a sentimental feeling
When you hear voices singing.
"Let's be jolly,
Deck the halls with boughs of holly.
Rockin' around the Christmas tree,
I have a happy holiday.
Ca'ryone dancing merrily
In the new old fashioned way.

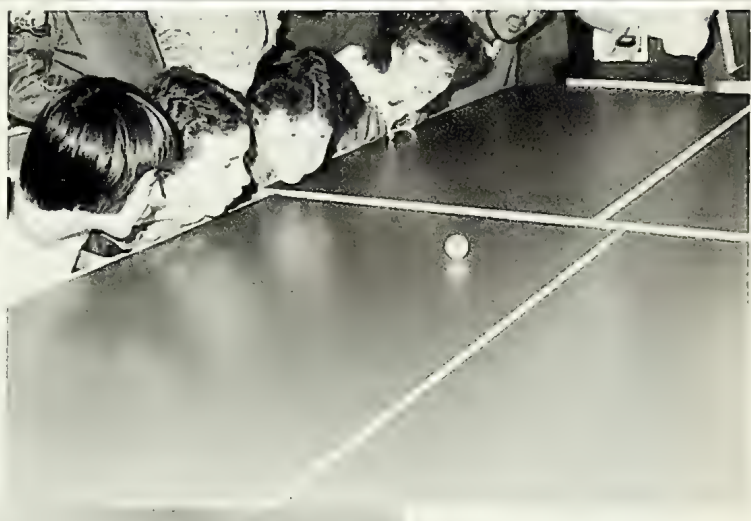

Mistletoe and Holly

Oh by gosh, by golly,
it's time for mistletoe and holly
lady pheasants, Christmas
presents.

Horseback Riding

March 14 '89

Before the ride, his muscles all
tensed up, as tight as a knotted rope.
The western saddle shining as bright
as the sun in a mirror.
His coat gleaming in the sun like
brightly shined silver.

Up in the saddle
they start to canter with the grace
of a deer.

Over, fence post after fence post, they fly like a dove on a spring breeze.
The miles go by as fast as time.

Back at the barn.

Sweat gleaming like gold.

Both rider & mount's eyes are lit up like a giant christmas tree from the exhilaration of the ride.

After a Morning's Rain.

After a rainy morning the sun begins to shine like a diamond and the sky begins
to look like a crystal clean even. A rainbow appears and has the colors just like a peacock's tail. The worms start toary up looking like hard, stale noodles.
Now droplets drip from
the trees just like water
from a faucet. The air
suddenly becomes hotter
just like a oven does,
soon the day has become bright and fresh.

Winter

Winter, as cold as the look on a grumpy,
old man's face, creeps upon you like the shadows of the night. The wind produces a howling sound, like that of a thousand ghosts on a misty, moon-ed night. The whirling snow, like the sting of a bee on a frostbitten face. The snowflakes falling on the ground, not making a sound, like a baby, fast asleep, in its warm, cozy crib. The bank of the frozen, frozen river, crunching under your feet, like the sound of hundreds of juicy, red apples, being bitten into all at one time. The children slipping and sliding on the ice, as do bars of soap, on a wet tile floor. Then there is the warm weather, the sun, like the warm carassing feeling of a baby's cheek against yours. The lion suddenly comes in again, like a wrecking ball, with great impact, that shatters your hopes of spring.

The Goalie

by Karen Zukowski

His reflexes are like lightning.
His muscles work like a machine's devices. His concentration is like the concentration of a karate expert.
His body is wet from sweating
as though he came out from a rain storm. His movements are like a fish's, swift and steady. The Goalie is like a leader, giving his team more confidence and more to work for everytime he makes a save.

Kite

The string is like the mother who doesn't completely let go, but the string still gives the child enough room to grow. Without a person flying it, the kite will drift away, without a mother loving it the child will no longer stay. A kite will crash to the ground the same with a child too, but with a child you should give it a second chance to prove who it is to you. Enjoy flying kites whenever because like a child the warm weather won't be here for ever

The Black Skillion

His coat was as black as the night, he flew with the speed of light, the swiftness of a fox, with the strength of an ox, and his eyes glinted like stars in a clear night. His narrow beautiful mane flowed through the wind like the running water of a stream. The sound of his hooves was like millions patterning on the road. He stood in a valley as beautiful as heaven. He stood as proudly as a king, and a king he was.
